

Lightbox

Smoker in ochre

Tennis star Serena Williams is still in her prime at 34, and she gave fans a thrill in 2015 by pursuing a Grand Slam of the sport's four major tournaments. Here she hammers a sizzling serve to Lucie Safarova of the Czech Republic in the final match of the French Open in Paris on June 6, the second of the four events. The star's quest ended on September 11 at the U.S. Open in New York, when she lost to a little-known opponent, Italy's Roberta Vinci, in a semifinal match.

Photograph by Clive Brunskill/Getty Images

TIME

The Year in Review 2015

A powerhouse year for Broadway theater

SOMEWHERE BETWEEN
A transatlantic musical comedy, with the original score by Stephen Sondheim and the lyrics by David Lindsay-Abaire, the show is a hilarious comedy about a man who is a

FROM BEHIND
Adapted by Lisa Wilson and directed by Robert Iler, the show is a hilarious comedy about a man who is a

WOLF WALL, PARTING IN TWO
Adapted by Lisa Wilson and directed by Robert Iler, the show is a hilarious comedy about a man who is a

